Always have the idea that the Italians have their products from an aesthetic appeal that technical and technological, since ESB and RCF have ceased production of speakers do not have a manufacturer can design, innovate, invest ... all this has resulted in a proliferation of micro marks from dubious quality and poor technological capacity especially in the categories of speakers and accessories, categories that lend themselves to under-investment and large profits especially compared to electronic ...

After over 10 years HiDiamond production I'd say that between local producers and is remained or became the only company that in recent years has been an escalation in terms of quality of construction and technological past the various stages and becoming more and more a less industrial and more artisan intended in the sense of innovator and researcher of technology!!

This escalation has confirmed its latest range of products recently presented to the public and to Italian and international press, a range that marks the step! New products have abandoned the old names related to the colors of girdles (I fought for years to get them to change so I'll take the credit or the blame for this change) by switching to progressive numbers ... 5.6, 7 ... they suggest the real qualitative positioning within the range. Here's maybe put a letter to distinguish the types would have been better but even so goes more than good!

It is impossible not to notice that for the first time the cables have now a DNA also in Italian, abandoned look colored sheaths, it is passed to a carbon-look aggressively for the cable and one more GOLD to the one power, as futile from the performance point of view it is important to have an appearance that face immediately understand that behind there is also an aesthetic and that nothing is left to the case. Very improved also the boxes if the power cable has been in a container made of velvet, the cable has a nice container in canvas paper, very elegant and easily reusable (unlike those cables clip)!

Progressive poll results showing a series of empty boxes for each option.

As from premise Hidiiamond invested in R & D has always been on the most prestigious cables was a mixed construction copper and graphite, in recent products added a treatment called 4VRC "that allows to obtain a reduction of the values of inductance, capacitance and resistance to improve the linearity of the incredibly musical signal." The RCA connectors are Rhodinated with Carbon look jacket, while bananas are a crocodile (I prefer even on very expensive cables). Innovations that are CLEARLY feel to listen ...

As always I left for a few days the cables to play, but I've definitely finished running. in any case the style HiDiamond appeared immediately, and immediately he felt a powerful low range and controlled with a hyper complexity and completeness, and neutral medium high but with a slight tendency to sweetness, richness of detail is very high! Is an extremely versatile cable that can be coupled to a multitude of systems for reliable satisfaction. In a nutshell it's a cable that provides very little of his, let go what is passed from electronic, but it does really well! also reconstruction perspective is well articulated and the spaces between the tools are well proportioned. The piece is not just economic (but not exorbitant cable remain within reach of all fans) and are placed in the most fierce, with many alternative USA of inditees and even Chinese, but for sure the diamond 6 and 3 can have their say without particular effort! If what you are looking for is a cable that plays without making a fortune, you hear these hidiiamond, if you want a brand with years experiment of advertising but there affects the sound you are looking for more ... These cables are for anyone who wants to be not appear! (although I'm beautiful!)

PS.: I 2 "cables" Italians there will make a great figure abroad!
